Sivory Punta Cana
Boutique Hotel

An aerial photograph of a tropical beach. The left side shows the ocean with white foam from waves washing onto the shore. The beach is a wide expanse of golden sand. On the right side, there is a row of palm trees and several white lounge chairs arranged in a line. A thatched-roof hut is visible near the bottom right. In the center of the image, there are several overlapping white circular lines of varying sizes, creating a decorative graphic element.

Welcome to an enlightened escape

Situated in Uvero Alto along the eastern coast of Punta Cana, considered the island's gold coast, is a private respite where harmony coexists with nature to transport guests to a state of complete relaxation: The Good Life.

Sivory Punta Cana Boutique Hotel is a luxurious alternative to the massive all-inclusive properties providing an intimate and exclusive setting and exemplary service.

The concept and philosophy is based upon East Asian influence, Eastern Caribbean style and local cultural traditions. This concept is conveyed throughout the fifty-five guestrooms and suites, dining outlets, leisure and meeting facilities. In the true spirit of the Caribbean and Eastern Asian customs the emphasis is on impeccable service and unparalleled amenities.
